Academic/ Classroom Expectations:

- Students are expected to participate and pay attention during class. To encourage these skills which impact learning, students will receive 4 points for demonstrating participation and attention each day. The daily points are recorded as a weekly participation grade.
- Students at NDCS are expected to show respect for self and others at all times and to follow all school rules in the Handbook.

Grading Policy:

- Tests/ Projects 25%
- Assignments 25%
- Participation 25%
- Service Hours 25%

Late/Missing Policy:

- Students are allowed two late assignments per quarter and will lose 10 points per day late for up to 5 days late, and then will receive a zero.
- After two late assignments, additional late assignments will be graded as a zero.
- This does not apply to excused absences.

Absent Policy:

- absent 3 or fewer days: get assignments from a classmate
- absent more than 3 days: parent can call office to receive assignments.
- absent day before test: have one grace day to take the test during the next class period. You are responsible for your grades so you should want to come ask me to take the test.
- absent day of test: If you were in class the day before the test, be prepared to take the test when you come back to class.
- when you know you will be absent ahead of time: it is a courtesy to tell me beforehand if you know you will miss class
